"The philosophy for creating a home in Couch Mountain is to minimize the impact of building on the surrounding landscape." The artwork of mother nature spreads before you from Lot 65, which faces west, and allows the visitor to see from north to south a full horizon of the ancient Appalachians. The Couch Mountain subdivision is on an upland plateau approximately 30 minutes south of Asheville and 20 minutes north of Hendersonville. 50% of the two hundred acres has been dedicated to preservation into perpetuity.
